AN AWFUL DISASTER.

Ninety Men Go Down with a Falling Bridge.

FORTY OF THEM INSTANTLY KILLED.

And as Many More frightfully injured. The False Work Proved Too Weak to Bear the Weight of the Superstructure.

CINCINNATI, June 16.—The false work of the new bridge being built over the Licking river between Newport and Covington, Ky., fell at 10:25 a. m. yesterday, carrying down with it ninety men, of whom a large number—the exact figure being as yet unknown—were buried under the debris of the bridge and killed, among them being Andrew and Albert Baird, two of the contractors. The construction of the bridge was begun early last fall, and was used for foot passengers and street railway traffic. The piers have been completed, and the work of fixing the heavy pieces of iron had begun. A track from the Newport side had been run out on the first pier to the heavy timbers. The false work ran up to feet from the water. But two men are known to have escaped with their lives. Not a stick of the false work from pier to pier remained, and the river was filled with timbers and iron work with scores of men struggling for life. News of the terrible accident spread rapidly, and soon a crowd of hundreds had gathered, and the work of rescuing the bodies was at once begun. By 12 o'clock twenty-two bodies had been taken out and the work was being pushed with vigor. Cincinnati patrol wagons responded to a hurried call, and the dead and wounded were carried away as fast as taken out. The accident is supposed to be due to the heavy weight of the floor supports, the false work not being strong enough. When the crash came it was but a few moments until both banks were filled with people. A big portion of the false work was submerged, and with it were a grove of trees, among the first to be taken out was one of the Baird brothers. His body was in a horrible condition, his back broken, and neck crushed and broken. At 3 o'clock the steamer Hercules Carroll commenced the work of removing the iron and timbers from the river, in the hope of recovering the bodies planned under the wreck. Although the excitement caused by the accident was intense, there was noticeable absence of the heartrending scenes usually accompanying such catastrophes. Most of the men were strangers, but a few had families, and children, on the scene to add their tears and cries to the grim spectacle. As the accident occurred on the dividing line between Covington and Newport, the coroners on both sides will hold inquests. Bodies landed on the Covington side were taken in charge by Coroner Wilson, while those landed in Newport were placed under the care of Coroner Davis. The corner of the Newport pier is badly broken and appears to have been weak. The story was started that the pier, by breaking, had caused the disaster, but there is apparently no foundation for this. Probably one of the saddest cases connected with the disaster was the death of James Johnson, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who was engaged by the important subcontractors who built the cantilever bridge between Cincinnati and Newport. Mr. Johnson reached Newport early yesterday morning and after eating breakfast at his hotel, he went to the bridge on Fifth street, went to the Licking bridge to talk with some of the workmen, many of whom were his intimate acquaintances. Johnson was on the false work when it gave way. His body was recovered at 2:30 p. m. Much sympathy is felt for poor Jack Pierce, the veteran newspaper man. When the news of the accident reached him the man's anguish was pitiful. His oldest son, Fred, formerly secretary of the Builders' exchange, was on the ill-fated bridge when it fell, having gone to work Monday. For a long time Jack would not go near the terrible scene, fearing he would learn the news that would break the heart of the good mother lying ill at her home, unconscious of the accident. Finally he mastered up the courage to visit the wreck, the hospitals and the morgue, but could find no trace of his missing son, who made an appeal for a home for superannuated ill.

The Master Plumbers' Convention.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The master plumbers held their second day's session yesterday, with a large attendance. W. H. Husey, of Omaha, introduced the following resolution: Whereas, in some notable contracts of large proportions, general contractors have been induced by the supply house or manufacturer, and obtain some journeyman plumber to put in the same by the day, thereby defeating the regular master plumber of his rightful business; therefore, Resolved, That a violation of the spirit of the Baltimore resolution, and should receive the earnest and immediate attention of the national association, and the house selling material to such contractors should be dealt with, and that the rules governing such cases be applied. This resolution created quite a stir in the convention. It was moved and seconded in the executive session but no vote was reached. Many delegates spoke on the resolution, after which the convention took a recess until 8 o'clock to enable the delegates to call on the president.

BRITISH ELECTIONS.

A Conservative Trick to Beat the Liberals.

TURBULENT ELECTIONS IN IRELAND.

Provided for by a Police Order—Michael Davitt Gives Public Notice that He and His Followers Will Fight in Self-Defense.

LONDON, June 16.—The fixing of June 28 as the date for the dissolution of parliament looks like an artful dodge on the part of the conservatives to gain an advantage over their opponents by preventing any thorough elections from being held on a Saturday. The Liberals have been afraid of such an occurrence, and have for weeks been urging, through their organs, the necessity of a virtually disfranchising numbers of workmen, who are mainly Liberals. Thousands of workmen cannot vote at all unless they do it on a Saturday, and in addition to those who will be wholly disfranchised, there are many who will have their votes crowded out in another way. When an election is held on any other than a Saturday, the workingmen will wait until 6 o'clock in the evening before they can go to the polls. The balloting machinery is often too slow in its operation to keep pace with the numbers of candidates, wherever they are standing, as much as possible, but to preserve an absolute neutrality where the only candidates are representatives of the warring Irish factions. These orators, in the latter case, "let them fight it out." The result can be easily imagined. The anti-Parnellite meeting in Dublin yesterday the meeting of the students' association of the University of London, Michael Davitt bitterly scored Harrington for having incited his comrades to violence in the coming campaign, by advising them to lose a chance to break a Justian law. Davitt declared that he was opposed to all violence. Nevertheless, he did not propose to submit tamely to violence from others. He and his followers will be ready to fight, when they are provoked, but they were tired of meeting enduring threats of outrage from Harrington's friends. They had borne insults and blows long enough and he warned the revolutionaries that they must not regret the action. He knew how to defend himself. Both sides have thus declared war, and a series of Kilkenny election rows seem inevitable.

A MOUTED QUESTION.

The Nomination of Whitlaw Reid and the Priests' Union. New York, June 16.—The statement made by Chaney M. Dewey that the differences between Whitlaw Reid and the Typographical Union No. 6 had been adjusted, and that the union had requested his candidacy, is a topic of much discussion. It was stated by an officer of the union to a United Press reporter yesterday that Mr. Dewey had spent some time with Mr. Reid at his home on Fifth street, Tuesday night, in regard to the matter but that no settlement had been reached. The United Press reporter's informant said there was very little likelihood of a settlement between the union and Mr. Reid being reached. The members of the union say that if its committee at Minneapolis gave Mr. Dewey to understand that the settlement had been reached, between Mr. Reid and the union, it placed the union in a false position, and exceeded its authority. At a meeting of the International Typographical union in Philadelphia, the resolution was adopted, recommending New York Typographical Union No. 6 for its alleged action in recommending the nomination of Whitlaw Reid for the vice-presidency, whom the resolution characterized as "the worst enemy that organized labor has had to contend with." Action on the resolution was deferred until the union could be heard from, after an attempt to table it was failed.

THE OAR. Cornell an Easy Winner From the University of Pennsylvania.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 16.—Eight-oared crews representing Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania, rowed a three-mile straightaway race here yesterday afternoon, which was won with ease by the Cornell crew. All the conditions for a race were perfect, the weather being warm and fair, while the lake was as placid as the proverbial mirror.

The race was called for 4:30 p. m., but it was an hour later when the crews were sent off.

Both took the water at almost the same time, each pulling forty-two strokes to the minute. Cornell forced ahead almost at the start, and after rowing 150 yards, the Pennsylvanians were half a length in the rear. Cornell then dropped her stroke to thirty-six, and did not increase it until just before the finish, when they started for a quarter of a mile, crossing the line in seventeen minutes and twenty-six seconds after the start, six lengths in front of the Pennsylvanians crew, whose time was 17:49:13.

A SINGULAR ACCIDENT.

A Bridge Badly Wrecked by a Railroad Collision.

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—The Twelfth-street bridge collapsed this morning at 12:30 o'clock as the result of carelessness on the part of the railroad men in the switchyard below. From sixteen to twenty-five freight cars, loaded with coal, were on the bridge when it fell, and 17 ran together, gradually closing up until at Twelfth street they are but a few inches apart.

Last night engine No. 15 was running a lot of cars out of the yard on track 10. At the same time engine 220 of the Missouri Pacific railroad was backing some of its cars down on track 16.

As a usual thing the cars on track 16 stop about Twelfth street. If track 17 is occupied, there is something wrong last night, however. The terminal cars were going about ten miles an hour when the Pacific cars backed along track 16, and just where the two tracks are closest together, right under the Twelfth-street bridge, the two lines of cars came together. There was a bumping and crumpling of wood as the cars ground against each other's sides. Then there was a bump and a creaking overhead. The bridge above the cars sagged down on the upper side, hung a moment and then went crashing into the cars and tracks below. When the two lines of cars met they were forced off the track, and jamming against the upper support of the bridge had pushed it out of place, and when it toppled over on its side the other support gave way, and as a result all that part of the bridge depending on these supports about 100 feet went down into the switchyard. Fortunately no one was injured. There happened to be no one either under the bridge in the yard or crossing it at the time of the accident. A Union depot electric car had passed going south only about a minute before the accident happened.

—It is learned from Michael Dorn, the Minnesota member of the democratic national committee, and Wm. M. Campbell, chairman of the Minnesota state committee, that all negotiations for fusion with the alliance or people's party are at an end, and that there will be no union on either the national or state ticket.

THE WIND'S FURY.

Eastern Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

SWEPT BY A DEATH-DEALING STORM.

Reports of Loss of Life and Destruction of Property Received from Widespread and Numerous Localities.

MONTREAL, Que., June 16.—The most terrific hail storm ever known in eastern Canada has spread death and destruction throughout this province, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The worst storm was that which struck Saint Rose, about twenty miles from Montreal, Tuesday. The most shocking phase of the disaster is the destruction of the schoolhouse in which were twenty-five children. A mass of kindling wood is all that is left of the building. When the people had somewhat recovered from the shock, their first thoughts were of the schoolhouse. Four of the children had escaped entirely, frightened by the approaching wind. The others were found strewn all about. Two of them were dead when found and one other died early yesterday morning. The killed are: Julie Joly, aged 5. Wilfred Oumet, aged 7. Maurice Deschamps, aged 8. Of the injured the following are expected to die: Ernestine Oumet; severe internal injuries. Edward Gasconne; injuries to head and spine. Amelia Cadus; broken arm and in-jured spine. Alexander LaCasse, the teacher. The damage will amount to over $90,000.

The schoolhouse at Ste. Therese was blown down when forty children were in it. Two of them were killed and many seriously injured.

Direct telegraphic communication with Montreal is cut off, the wires being down. A severe storm on the south side of the St. Lawrence was very extensive and extended through nearly all the counties, and the damage, it is feared, will be very great.

At Upton, on the Grand Trunk railway, two children were killed. The storm played great havoc at St. Charles, where a large number of buildings of all kinds and trees were torn down. The storm swept furiously from the south side of the River St. Lawrence from Longueuil to Rocherville. Contre Coeur and Varennes, where some heavy damage was done. But it was in the Templeton district, on the Ottawa river, that the storm seems to have raged with the greatest fury. Mayor John McElroy was killed. Disasters from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia tell similar tales with several fatalities.

PNEUMONIA.

This terrible malady is generally fatal when it attacks people who are over sixty years of age. The reason is that it is always complicated with kidney trouble, making its appearance in the lungs. Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure is a certain cure for it. John F. Grove, of Cedar Park, near Peoria, is an old gentleman who has passed his 70th year. He was taken with pneumonia and the doctors pronounced his case hopeless. Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure was given him freely. He had not been able to recline in a chair for three days. The remedy was given him without restriction, and he fairly lived upon it, for it is nutritious in itself. The result was that he fully recovered and was cured at the same time of a pleurisy that had troubled him for five years. He says himself "Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure saved my life when I was at death's door." If your druggist will not give you this remedy, write to us. The price is in reach of all. 25 cents for the small bottle and 50 cents for the large. SYLVAN REMEDY CO., Peoria, Ill.

REPUBLICAN HURRAH!

Ratification Friday Evening
in Central Park.

There was a brief session of the circuit court this forenoon, when Judge Vail
received the final report of the grand jury,
and then adjourned court until Saturday
at 9 a. m.

CHANCERY DOCKET.
William McCollum et al vs. Frank McCollum et al; partition. Master's report approved.
Decees. G. V. Loring, A. C. Bolan and C. W.
Montgomery appointed commissioners.
James Cunningham vs. Mary Hollingsworth et al; chancery. Leave to amend bill by making George Hollingsworth party complainant. Master's report approved. Decees. G. V. Loring, John P. Farris and I. N. Webb appointed commissioners.

State Sunday School Meeting.
The second day of the state Sunday school convention at Central hall showed an increased attendance, there being over 1,000 delegates and visitors. The annual reports of officers were the chief items of interest. The missionary contributions for the year amounted to $72,053. The total number of Sunday schools in the state is 7,172, and the total membership 781,488. The newly elected officers were installed and the following were named to constitute the executive committee:
B. F. Jacobs, Chicago; L. A. Trowbridge,
Rockford; R. H. Griffith, Rushville; John Benham, Chicago; G. W. Barnett, Chicago; Knox P. Taylor, Bloomington; H.
T. Lay, Kewanee; D. B. Parkinson, Carbondale; J. R. Gorin, Deatur; T. H.
Perren, Alton; Frank Wilcox, Champaign.

A Disturbance.
A son of John T. Steinbaugh has been working for J. Frank Jones, the general agent for the Chicago Daily News Record.
When he came to settle up several days ago he was $6 short in his accounts, a fact which was as unpleasant to Mr.
Jones as to the boy. The boy reported the same to his father, who this morning told up at Mr. Jones' home on Central avenue hunting for trouble. Well, he made a long story short but got all he wanted and a little more than he was owed for, before he left. The furniture was somewhat damaged in the room and the wall paper and lace curtains were to some extent damaged, but the newspaper man came out of the affair victorious.

Into Their New Quarters.
The H. Mueller Gun Co., recently incorporated under the state law, took possession of the Anderson building to-day,
which was recently vacated by Fred Norman. The building has been refitted thoroughly and constructed in a manner especially adapted to the line of business. The front has been beautified by the putting in of large plate-glass windows and a wide entrance cut into the corner. The room which this firm recently vacated on Merchant street will be rearranged and a portion put in half way back, the front portion to be occupied by the jewelry firm of J. L. Peake & Son, and the remainder taken up by Morgan's Drazner.

Riverdale Park Theater.
The Lyceum Theater company presented "Hazel Kirke" again last night to an audience which completely filled the pavilion. The performance was thoroughly enjoyed throughout. Mr. Patten and Mrs. Patten made an excellent impression with the audience, while Miss Roscoe, Deane and Hon. and Messrs. Moses and Warren repeated their success of the previous evening.
There will be no performance to-night
owing to the blizzard coming here.

A Clever Scheme.
L. F. Abrams, the well-known photographer, was right in to-day. He hired Goodman's Band and Ed Baker's large wagon, and with advertising streamers on both sides of the wagon took to the city.
It was a clever scheme and made quite a hit with the visitors. Following close behind was an advertising scheme for the clothing store of Outenbaker & Co. and for the Modern Woodmen picnic.

mittee appointed to aid in arranging for evening next. Final arrangements are then to be made. JOHN A. ENOWS,
